ON saturday last M. Buteau and the Greffier Fagel, went to the house in the wood, and acquainted her royal highness the Princess Royal, with the resolution of the States General, for creating her son Prince William V. hereditary stadtholder and captain-general of Brabant, Flanders, the upper quarter of Guelderland, and the three counties of Outre Meuse, Weerde, and Westwoldingerland; and at the same time administered to her royal highness the oaths, in that quality, as governante and guardian to the young prince her son. They likewise acquainted her royal highness, that their high mightinesses had conferred on the young prince stadtholder, the right of granting pardons and favours throughout the whole extent of the jurisdiction of the council of Brabant, the city of Maestricht and its district, the county of Vroenhove, and the jurisdiction of the council of Flanders, and of the court of the upper quarter of Guelderland; as also the right of naming the magistrates of the city of Beisseduc; all which privileges and prerogatives are to be enjoyed by her royal highness during her son's minority. The deputies of the province of Overyssel, and those of the county of Drenthe, have been admitted to audiences of the princess royal, to condole with her on her late loss, and to tender her the oaths as governante and guardian to the young prince stadtholder her son.

The humble ADDRESS of the House of Commons to the King.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE Your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great-Britain in Parliament assembled, humbly beg Leave to return Your Majesty our most hearty Thanks for Your Majesty's most Gracious Speech from the Throne.

Permit us, Sir, with Hearts full of Gratitude, to express our lively and due Sense of the Happiness we enjoy under Your Majesty's wise and just Government, and our well grounded Confidence, that Your Majesty's Views are, and ever will be, directed to no other End, than to secure and improve the present flourishing Condition of Your Kingdoms. The Regard Your Majesty is pleased to testify for the Advancement of our Trade and Manufactures, as it is a signal Instance of Your Majesty's constant and universal Attention to the Welfare of Your Subjects, demands our sincerest Acknowledgements; and it cannot but be Matter of the highest Satisfaction to us, that the Provisions made for that Purpose by this Parliament, in pursuance of Your Majesty's most Gracious Recommendation, have produced the desired Effect.

We unfeignedly assure Your Majesty, that we will readily concur in all such Measures, as tend to secure the inestimable Blessings of Peace to us, by establishing more firmly the General Tranquillity in Europe.

Affected with the deepest Concern, we condole with Your Majesty on the unfortunate Event of the Death of the Prince of Orange; but, at the same Time, beg Leave to express the great Consolation we feel from the strong Assurances, given to Your Majesty, on this Occasion by the States General of the United Provinces, which leave us no room to doubt of the Continuance of that strict Union and Friendship, so essential to the Interests of both Countries.

Your faithful Commons with the utmost Chearfulness promise to grant to Your Majesty such Supplies, as may enable Your Majesty to fulfil the Engagements, and answer the several Services, which shall be found necessary for the Public Good.

We cannot sufficiently acknowledge Your Majesty's Wisdom and Goodness, in recommending to our Consideration the Mischiefs and Dishonour, which arise to this Nation from the audacious Crimes of Robbery and Violence, so notorious of late to all the World; and we humbly assure Your Majesty, that we will seriously proceed in reviving and enforcing such Laws, as may contribute to suppress those Enormities, by discouraging Irreligion, Idleness, Gaming, and Immorality, by promoting Industry, and establishing Good Order amongst Your Majesty's Subjects.

London, November 19. Yesterday his majesty was pleased to confer the order of knighthood on Dr. Salusbury, when he was appointed judge of the high court of admiralty.

Last saturday came an account, that his Portuguese majesty was dangerously ill.

We hear that there has been a great hurricane in the North Seas, wherein many ships of different nations were lost and stranded.

It is said a discourse will very soon appear, to prove the necessity of reducing the Public debts, grounded on a fine and incontestible remark of the lord chancellor Bacon, contained in the following words: 'USURY 'bringeth the treasure of a realm or state into few 'Hands: For the usurer being at certainties, and o-'thers at uncertainties; at the end of the game, most 'of the money will be in the box.'

Nov. 21. His majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious answer to the address of the hon. house of commons, presented to him on saturday last, for his most gracious speech from the throne.

GENTLEMEN,

"I thank you most heartily for this very affectio-"nate Address. Nothing can give me so great Plea-"sure, as to see my People happy. It shall be my "constant Care, as far as in me lies, to make "them so."

Nov. 23. Our intelligence from Cologne represents the new system in a very declining state; the great lady by whose interest it was brought about, being dead, the old minister, on whose disgrace it was established, again growing into favour, and some whispers in the cabinet as if a reconciliation with certain courts would not be at all impracticable.

We learn from Leghorn, that tho' the disturbances in Corsica are for the present suppressed, yet there is good reason to believe, the quiet of that nation will be of no long duration, the Genoese being very impatient at the stay of the French troops, while the malecontents universally interpret this humour to a desire of acting with the same tyrannical spirit as in times past.

Yesterday morning it was currently reported, that her majesty the queen of Denmark died in childbed; but as there was no account of it at court, it gained no credit.

The house of lords have ordered the last petitioning day to be the 24th of January next.

They write from Berlin, that the anatomical microscope, invented there by M. Lieberkuhn, is of late brought brought to as extraordinary degree of perfection; so that the smalleſt creatures when living, are eaſily managed therein, ſo as to examine their parts with the greateſt accuracy, and may with like facility be diſſected, and their contents rendered obvious to the eye with equal nicety; whence this ingenious invention becomes every day more and more eſteemed.

Some private letters from Amſterdam intimate, that they are very far from being ſatisfied with the preſent ſtate of things in the Eaſt-Indies; and it is believed, that orders are gone by the laſt ſhips, that will have great influence upon the affairs of all the European nations which carry on a trade to that part of the world.
